

BRYAN RULES THE ROOST WILL RUN UNDER 16 TO 1

Resolutions Committee Insert Such a Plank
In the Platform.

TOOK A LOT OF PRESSURE FROM LINCOLN

Conservative Democrats at Kansas City Are Very Much Disgusted While the Silver Fanatics Are Correspondingly Elated—Issue Was Forced By the Man in Nebraska—Wisconsin Was Against Him—Hill a Conspicuous Figure—Rose Wants Democrats to Keep Their Eye On Badger State—Fight Over Platform Is On.

Kansas City, July 5.—[Special Telegram]—The committee on resolutions were promptly on hand with their report when the convention was called to order at 3:30 o'clock.

A majority report for 16 to 1 was handed in and a minority report against 16 to 1. The indications are that most of the afternoon and evening will be consumed in the settlement of the platform matter. A red hot fight is expected with Hill of New York, the leader of the conservative forces, and Williams of Massachusetts for the silver men.

It is well known that Bryan is urging the adoption of the 16 to 1 plank and it seems certain that it will be adopted.

Bryan's nomination will take place immediately upon the settlement of the platform question. The nomination for vice president is likely to go over until tomorrow.

Kansas City, July 5.—[Special Telegram]—After four o'clock this morning after ten hours of uninterrupted debate, the resolution committee decided that a specific plank for sixteen to one shall be inserted in the democratic platform. The states voted as follows:

Ayes—	Arizona,
Alabama,	Connecticut,
Arkansas,	Idaho,
Colorado,	Kansas,
Iowa,	Massachusetts,
Kentucky,	Missouri,
Maine,	Nevada,
Nebraska,	New Mexico,
North Dakota,	South Carolina,
Oregon,	Tennessee,
Tennessee,	Vermont,
Vermont,	Wyoming,
Wyoming,	Oklahoma,
Oklahoma,	Nayes—
Nayes—	California,
California,	Georgia,
Georgia,	Illinois,
Illinois,	Louisiana,
Louisiana,	Michigan,
Michigan,	Mississippi,
Mississippi,	New Hampshire,
New Hampshire,	New Jersey,
New Jersey,	Ohio,
Ohio,	Rhode Island,
Rhode Island,	Texas,
Texas,	West Virginia,
West Virginia,	Wisconsin,
Wisconsin,	Alaska,

Will be a Minority Report
There will be a minority report to the convention against a specific declaration and it is expected a debate on the question will occupy nearly if not quite all of today's session.

Many committeemen claim the silver plank was defeated up to two o'clock when Blackburn of Kentucky, in an impassioned plea, convinced enough to make up a small majority. The vote was twenty-six for to twenty-four against, Montana and District of Columbia not voting.

Looks Like Towne
The defeat of the conservatives by the platform committee portends the selection of a vice presidential candidate known to stand firmly for sixteen to one, which brings the situation up to Towne.

SPEECHES IN THE CONVENTION
Mayor Rose Thinks Germans Will be With the Democracy

Kansas City, July 5.—[Special Telegram]—Crowds flocked into the convention hall as early as eight thirty o'clock this morning. Delegates were slow in arriving, many having been up all night waiting on the deliberations of the resolutions committee.

Chairman Richardson entered at 10:34 and the band struck up "Dixie," the crowd cheering. Senator Blackburn's entrance was a signal for more noise. At 11:08 Richardson rapped for order. Prayer was offered by Bishop Blennox, a Roman Catholic.

Gov. Hogg Makes a Speech
Gov. Hogg of Texas was then invited to address the convention. Quiet was restored by a desire to hear the Texas man. He said he was anxious to see the report of the platform committee—whether the democrats were to fluke or to fight "Are we going to dodge the issue of '96?" he asked. Loud cries of "no" answered him. Hogg said he wanted the convention to stand up against English domination. He declared that the republican plat form contained none of the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and that there should be a specific declaration for silver.

Congressman Dockery, the democratic candidate, for governor of Missouri, was next introduced and spoke along the same lines.

Mayor Rose Followed.
Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, followed, admonishing the audience to keep their eyes on Wisconsin and the German vote, which is leaning toward democracy.

Then loud cries for Hill again broke forth, but he band played to drown them. Then John E. McCullough of Indiana, took the platform and promised the electoral vote of that state for Bryan.

At 12:25 George Fred Williams of Massachusetts, was recognized to offer a resolution that a committee of nine be appointed to confer with silver republicans and populist parties now here. Adopted.

Congressman J. R. Williams of Illinois, then addressed the convention. Beckham Gets an Ovation.

Gov. Beckham, Kentucky, made the next address and the young governor was given an ovation lasting three minutes. He said if there was a stain upon Kentucky's escutcheon it had been placed there by those who have not and never would vote the democratic ticket. He predicted that Kentucky would be found in the democratic column by a hundred thousand votes. Adjourned to 3:30 o'clock.

Ex-Representative Miles of Maryland said "Let us get together," and then the chairman announced that the platform committee would be ready to report at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and on motion of Campau of Michigan the convention at 12:46 took a recess till that hour.

Stevenson Leads Towne.
Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and Charles A. Towne of Minnesota are running almost an even race for the vice presidential nomination, with the former vice president somewhat in the lead according to the politicians.

The action of the New York delegation in bringing out John W. Keller as its candidate caused the situation to take on a decided Towne hue. Then the Illinois delegation sprung Stevenson as its candidate and by morning the boom of the Bloomington man had assumed proportions that seemed to overshadow the pretensions of Minnesota.

CONCISE STORY OF CONVENTION.
Proceedings of First Session Yesterday in Brief for Busy People.

Kansas City, July 5, 9 a. m.—[Special Telegram]—This national democratic convention is ready at 10 o'clock this morning to enter upon the serious business for which it is assembled here. Yesterday was a day of noise, today will be a day of action.

It is unsufferably hot here today, but notwithstanding the town was active early and the crowds began pouring toward convention hall.

At the first session of the convention yesterday Temporary Chairman Thomas delivered his speech, the declaration of Independence was read and the various committees were appointed. Then a recess until 4 o'clock was taken. The committees not being ready to report at that hour, another recess until 5:30 was ordered. At the night session permanent organization was effected, rules were adopted, the report of the credentials committee was accepted, and after a big Bryan demonstration adjournment until this morning was voted.

A marked feature of the opening session of the convention was the repeated demonstrations on behalf of David B. Hill. Several times the delegates caused a suspension of business while they cheered the "sage of Wolfret's Roost." When Van Wyck's name was read as the New York member of the committee on resolutions it was hissed and there were renewed cheers for Hill. At one time, after the demonstration had continued twenty minutes, Hill arose to speak, but Chairman Thomas refused to see him, and a band was employed to drown out the cheers.

Former Governor Altgeld of Illinois was given a chance to speak at the evening session. He bitterly arraigned the "trimmers, tricksters and apologists" in the Democratic party and said that without a specific declaration for 16 to 1 the party could not hope to win. His strictures upon the republicans were especially severe.

W. A. Clark's victory in the Montana contest, gained first in the national committee, was ratified by the committee on credentials.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cohen, delegate at large from Utah is the first of her sex accredited to a national convention of either big party.

Silver republicans held a convention and listened to speeches by Charles A. Towne and Senator Teller. A committee of fifteen was appointed to confer with the democrats regarding the vice presidency. This committee will report at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Friends of Charles A. Towne claim he is making encouraging gains in his vice presidential canvass. The hostility displayed toward Croker in the convention is taken by them as a hopeful sign. Benjamin F. Shively issued an open letter, positively declining to consider the nomination for the vice presidency, but in spite of his protestations the Indiana delegation is booming him vigorously, claiming he will accept if nominated.

WISCONSIN DELEGATES CAUCUS
Men of Principles Are No Good When They Are Dead

Kansas City, July 5.—The Wisconsin delegates held a caucus at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at their headquarters in the Midland. They determined by resolution to stand by the instructions issued to them by the state convention regarding the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform. It was the sentiment of the majority, though, that each delegate could interpret these instructions for himself upon the further question of the specific re-statement of 16 to 1 in the new platform.

A motion was made in the caucus to the effect that the Wisconsin delegation support Carter H. Harrison for vice president. It was withdrawn on the plea that the time had not yet come to decide upon whom to support. A caucus will be held this morning to determine finally upon the matter. Many of the delegates are avowed Harrison men, and probably a majority of them favor the Chicago mayor.

A resolution was passed instructing the platform committeemen to work for the adoption of a plank favoring the immediate admission of Porto Rico and Hawaii as states, and the annexation of Cuba with the consent of the people of that island.

Some sharp debate took place prior to the passage of the financial resolution. Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, chairman of the delegation, said that he would oppose the platform on the floor of the convention if it contained a specific free silver plank.

"But you can't rewrite the Chicago platform without mentioning 16 to 1," interrupted State Senator Marsh. "Then for God's sake leave it out," remarked Mayor Rose hotly. "I don't propose to have our state obliterated from the political map when we have a chance to win. This idea of standing up and dying for principle is all rot. Men of principles are no good when they are dead."

MRS. COHEN IS FOR SULZER.
The Only Woman In the Convention Runs Over the Situation.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Elizabeth M. Cohen, delegate at large from Utah, who makes the proud claim of being the first woman to occupy the position in the history of American politics, marched into the hall with her delegation at noon today. She is a handsome woman of alert bearing and womanly ways. She protested that she was uninterested, and said that she hoped to be a delegate to future national conventions. She said: "I like the whole thing. I have been to many similar conventions in our state and am accustomed to public gatherings. I stand firmly for 16 to 1, and if I had my choice of all the vice presidential candidates I would select Sulzer of New York. I prefer him because he is a New Yorker, and so am I; then he is a sure enough democrat, and I don't think such men as Towne should be mentioned in the same breath with him. Still I suppose Utah would vote for anyone that seemed best in New York, except perhaps, Hill. I don't like Hill and I can't see that he would help the ticket in the west. He did not do right in 1896 and I don't think he should be considered."

Mrs. Cohen talks politics as if she meant it, and seems to know all the leaders. During today's session she did not leave her place in the hall, but held an almost continuous levee, shaking hands with hundreds of delegates who wanted to talk with the only woman delegate in the convention.

WARM FOURTH FOR GOVERNOR

St. Joseph, Mo., July 5.—"When I was nominated for the vice presidency at Philadelphia I was sorry. Now I am delighted that I am a candidate for the office."

Governor Roosevelt spoke this sentence yesterday when he learned Richard Croker had offered the bold front of open hostility to David B. Hill.

He holds that he considers the act of the Tammany boss as a confession that he does not expect the democrats to carry New York this fall.

Feels Warlike Toward China.

The report of the murder of all Americans in Peking reached him at Hutchinson yesterday at 11 o'clock and not only drew from him a formal statement of opinion, which might be interpreted as a desire that the United States declare immediate war against the Celestial Empire, but in nearly every speech he delivered afterwards enunciated references to China the opposite of peaceful.

The climax of a sentiment that approached the warlike was reached at Horton, Kan., a town which is a railroad center and wheat shipping point of considerable importance.

Says China Must Atone
He linked the Chinese subject and expansion.

"The nation," he said, "has expanded and you will not see it halt. The streets of Peking will hold the bodies of American dead, run red with the blood of our people. We will see to it that atonement is made and that henceforth any American life is safe in China and in any part of the world. And now you have been told of the evils which come from expansion. China has not expanded and is not expanding—it is murdering."

"The fate that has overtaken our citizens in Peking is but proof of the fate that would have befallen all foreigners in Manila had the American soldiers kept the insurgents without the walls."

Warm Fourth for Governor

It was a warm Fourth for "Teddy." He traveled nearly 400 miles and delivered fifteen speeches in twelve hours before an estimated aggregate audience of 40,000 people. The St. Joe celebration last night afforded the proper climax to the day. It was divided in place between the Union depot and Lake Conterary Park, 25,000 people seeing and hearing the governor between the two. Neither speech treated upon new topics though both were lengthier than usual.

Governor Roosevelt and his party left St. Joe at 10:15 o'clock last night and reached Quincy, Ill., at 8:30 this morning.

LOSS WILL REACH TWO MILLIONS

Great Fire Destroys Standard Oil Co.'s
Plant at Constable Hook, N. J.,
This Morning.

New York, July 5.—[Special Telegram]—Lightning this morning struck and fired the immense plant of the Standard Oil Co., at Constable Hook, N. J. The conflagration swept over five hundred acres and the loss will aggregate two million dollars.

When the oil tank exploded Charles King, electrician, was killed; John Winko, Owen Drummond, and Fred Maurer were seriously injured. Twenty-three tanks burst, smashing in all the windows in Bayonne. The scene was a spectacle. The burning oil flowed in torrents to the water, and the tugs had difficulty in rescuing fifty vessels lying at the company's pier. Trenches were dug to sidetrack the oil, and booms placed on the water to prevent its spread down the river.

BROWNELL WINS THE TRUNK

Result of the Golf Match Against "Dog-ey" on Tuesday Afternoon

The sole leather golf trunk offered by the Siniessippi Golf club for the best score against "Bogey" was played for Tuesday afternoon. The trunk was won by Leo Brownell, who finished three down. This is another case where the young players did up the old. The young men are the coming players of the club. After supper was over, the plan of holding a tournament during August was proposed to those present and was warmly received.

It was stated that in order to make this tournament a success prizes would have to be purchased and other necessary expenditures made. A subscription paper was started among the guests and nearly two-thirds the amount needed was subscribed. This tournament, if held, will be of great value to the home club as a number of golfers from outside will be present, and it will increase the popularity of the game and stimulate the home players to improve their game, in order that they can stand a show against crack players from outside clubs.

BOYS PLAY WITH A CANNON

Charles Swan of Milton, Met with a Bad
Accident

Charles Swan of Milton, a boy of fourteen years, met with a bad accident yesterday morning in a peculiar manner. Swan and some of his boy friends were celebrating the Fourth with a cannon. After firing the cannon a number of times they thought they would fire it at a target. The cannon was loaded to the muzzle with powder and wadding, and Swan started to fix the target. Before it was in place one of the boys fired the cannon.

The charge struck Swan squarely on the left side of the face with terrible force, knocking him down and bruising the entire left side of the face and injuring the left eye so badly that he may lose the sight of it. He was brought to this city, and taken to the office of Dr. J. P. Thorne, who has hopes that he may save the sight, although the eye was so badly swollen that it was almost impossible to examine it.

DEATH ROLL FOR FOURTH OF JULY

Sixteen Persons Killed and 700 Injured in Celebrating—Loss by Fire is $74,000.

The dead..... 16
The injured..... 700
Loss by fire..... $74,000

Chicago, July 5.—The foregoing is an accurate statement of deaths and injuries resulting from fireworks celebrations in sixty-one American cities yesterday, obtained by The Tribune from its correspondents and the police officials up to midnight. In Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia, where the total casualties of one day's Fourth of July patriotism had not been collected, it is supposed the list is still far from complete.

In these sixty-seven cities the total losses from fires resulting directly from Fourth of July explosives were $74,000. Of this amount $50,000 covers a fireworks accident at Frankfort, Ky.

Of the total of 700 accidents resulting in injury to human life, 166 were directly due to firecrackers and torpedoes. All except three of these injuries resulted from celebrating yesterday. The New York accident, in which three were hurt, occurred the preceding day in a fireworks stock.

Of this appalling list of injured 159 were hurt in powder explosions, part of them in firing anvils in the smaller towns.

The deadly toy pistol inflicted 105 out of 152 injuries by firearms. The total of toy pistols injuries was considerably greater, but the police reports did not distinguish between these and firearms of other descriptions. There were 87 toy cannon accidents and 39 skyrocket accidents in 87 cities.

The thermometer registered 90 degrees steadily throughout the day in Chicago, with scarcely a breeze to afford the slightest relief. Up to 10 o'clock this morning eight deaths and four prostrations had been reported.

Profit on Shin-Plaster Money.

Probably the greatest profit ever enjoyed by the government as the result of the destruction of money was in connection with the fractional currency or shin-plasters issued during the civil war. The total amount issued was $368,724,079, of which $6,880,558 has never been presented for redemption. A large amount has been preserved as curios by collectors and occasionally even now it is offered for redemption.

Bogus Curios of All Kinds.

It is said of old curiosity shops in general that nearly half the objects offered are spurious, expressly manufactured for sale. The ingenuity of the forger of antiques is remarkable. Furniture, china, prints, bronzes, armor, ivory and tapestry—all are imitated successfully.

LOUD CALL FOR MORE TROOPS

Shanghai, July 5.—[Special Cablegram]—The German consul has received an official statement that the emperor Kwang Sun committed suicide with opium June 19, at the instigation of Prince Tuan. The dowager empress followed suit, but the poison failed to work and she is still alive, though insane.

Thirty thousand Chinese troops destroyed the railway north and east of Tien Tsin. The Japanese and Russian troops drove them off, but were unable to follow the advantage.

London, July 5.—[Special Cablegram]—A Daijisi dispatch from Shanghai, dated July 4, says: "The British legation at Peking and the sixteen hundred refugees there are still safe."

Report is Confirmed

Shanghai, July 5.—[Special Cablegram]—The report that the emperor committed suicide June 19th is confirmed. The empress dowager also took poison but may recover.

Would He Suicide to Advance.

London, July 5.—The commanders of the allies in Tien Tsin inform the correspondents that it would be suicide to attempt to reach Peking with the troops now available in the face of the colossal force of imperial troops and Boxers occupying the country between Tien Tsin and Peking.

So far from taking the offensive the twelve thousand international troops at Tien Tsin and the eight thousand others at Taku and intermediate points barely can keep up communications, fighting incessantly with overwhelming numbers.

Not a Single Foreigner Alive.

London, July 5.—"Not a single foreigner is now alive in Peking." This is the latest Chinese report which has reached Shanghai. Earlier reports from the same sources describe the condition of the British legation as something awful. It is said that the rooms of the legation were filled with sick and wounded, the killed lying unburied in heaps.

A special dispatch from St. Petersburg says:

"Vice Admiral Alexieff's official announcement of the impossibility of advancing on Peking without reinforcement and the necessary pontoons and stores has caused despair, as it is regarded as tantamount to abandoning the Europeans."

Chinese raiders have cut the railroad between Taku and Tien-Sin, but the river route was open until July 3. The admirals are talking seriously of falling back upon Taku. A force of 90,000 Chinese regulars is reported advancing to attack the Tien Tsin garrison.

The Chinese losses about Tien-Tsin have been 7,000 to 9,000 men. They are mutilating the bodies of their victims and the Russians are retaliating by wholesale shooting of the Chinese.

Uncle Sam's Chinese Policy.

Berlin, July 5.—An important dispatch from Washington was received at the American embassy today. Ambassador White was absent at the Leipzig celebration, but Secretary of Embassy Jackson immediately apprised the foreign office of the receipt of the message and upon Count von Buelow's return from Wilhelmshaven a long conference was held between the two.

It is understood that the dispatch clearly outlines the entire present Chinese policy of the United States. The main features of the program are restoring order in China, the obtaining of full damages for outrages and loss of life among American citizens and missionaries residing in China and the promising of a corresponding share of military aid wherever American interests require it.

Under no condition, however, will the United States become a party to the division of China or to territorial conquests.

DROUGHT HAS NOT INJURED CORN CROP

FIELDS ARE CLEAN AND CROP HAS KEPT GROWING NICELY.

Maturity of Winter Wheat and Rye Is Fast Approaching—Oats and Barley Are In a Bad Way—Haying Progressing Rapidly But Is a Short Crop—Tobacco Good.

The official weather bulletin for the week ending last night is as follows: The average temperature for the week ranged from 75 degrees over the central portion of the state to 56 degrees along Lake Superior. The week opened with high temperature over the entire state, but this condition was quickly followed by decidedly cool weather, especially in the northern and central counties, where the temperature fell to freezing point in many localities on Friday and Saturday nights. Damaging frosts occurred in exposed places, killing or seriously injuring gardens, and several instances are reported where fields of corn, potatoes and field peas were almost totally destroyed.

Local rains occurred during the latter part of the week in many localities, but the distribution was quite uneven, and there are many sections of the state where no rain has fallen for several weeks. The heaviest rains occurred along the western border, including La Crosse and Vernon counties, where the total for the week amounted to about two inches. In the northwestern section the rainfall was very light and reports of the crop condition are discouraging in the extreme.

The drought has not seriously injured the corn crop generally, except the late plantings, much of which failed to germinate. The fields are mostly clean, and where the moisture has been conserved by light cultivation the crop has been kept growing nicely.

The dry weather has hastened the maturity of winter wheat and rye, and they are generally ready for harvesting. The straw is very short, but the heads are fairly well filled.

The drought has seriously interfered with the growth of oats and barley, the stand being very short and generally thin. There is considerable complaint of oats rusting.

Haying is progressing rapidly. The crop is very light and many farmers are cutting oats for feed. Marsh hay is said to be fairly good.

In the northwestern counties the pasture lands are bare and farmers are selling stock on account of lack of feed. In the Western and central counties the recent rains have caused a decided improvement in pastures.

Tobacco has made good progress although rain is badly needed in many localities.

The prospect for apples is not so encouraging as a few weeks ago. The dry weather has caused the fruit to fall badly and will probably injure the quality.

SIX MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Two Score Seriously Injured by an Oil Tank Explosion.

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 5.—Six men were killed and fifty three injured, thirteen seriously, by the explosion of a car tank containing 6,000 gallons of oil, in the Ohio River railroad yards here. The dead: George Chalk, fireman; J. H. Hamilton, general superintendent of the Ohio River railroad; E. Lalime, master mechanic; Charles Mohler, yardmaster; Bradley Reeves, freight brakeman; G. O. Shannon, known as "Dick," extra train dispatcher. The seriously injured are: Jim Bayland, day yard conductor; Geo. Bradford, fireman, badly burned; Will Carr, engineer; J. C. Cheuvront, yard engineer; George Coleman, roundhouse foreman; P. B. Dickson, fireman; George Huff, fireman; E. T. Hull, wrecking foreman; E. D. Kelley, yard brakeman; John Ruth, fireman; Jim Ruth, fireman, will die; Charles Smith, fireman; T. J. Stafford, night yardmaster.

The oilcar tank was standing on the yard track, ready for shipment, when engine No. 26, pulling fast freight No. 35, south bound, came on toward the yard on the main track. The switch happened to be open, and the freight ran onto the siding, colliding with the tankcar. The force of the collision knocked a hole in the top of the tank and the oil ignited. In a moment the flames were raging furiously and spread in all directions. General Superintendent J. H. Hamilton, with assistants and a wrecking crew arrived and at once set about devising some means of running off the burning tank and extinguishing the fire. Suddenly there was a terrific explosion, caused by the gas formed by the burning oil coming in contact with the flames. The tank went up in the air, vent in two parts, each flying in an opposite direction. The flying end going in a southerly direction struck in the crowd of railroaders, causing the fatalities and injuries mentioned above. Many of the crowd standing near the tank were deluged by the burning oil and are among the forty-odd injured who are not in the list of those named, their injuries not being serious. Those killed were literally blown to atoms, fragments of the bodies being scattered in the railroad yards and in adjoining cornfields. The sufferers were removed to hospitals. Coroner Keever held an inquest soon after the calamity, and the jury rendered a verdict finding that the accident was caused by the night yard crew being asleep while on duty.

Fight at Spring Valley.

Spring Valley, Ill., July 5.—Walter Nolan, Chicago, and Edward Morris, a Spring Valley negro, fought for a $250 purse and half the gate receipts in the opera house in this city. Before the end of the third round the fight broke up in a disgraceful row. Morris was attacked by Eddie Buller of Chicago, who was in Nolan's corner, and knocked down and a free for all fight took place on the stage between the fighters, the police and spectators. The referee first gave the fight to Nolan on a foul, and afterward decided it no contest.

Dave Sullivan Disqualified.

New York, July 5.—Dave Sullivan of Boston was disqualified in his fight with Kid Broad of Cleveland at the Seaside Sporting Club. In the sixteenth round, after one minute and fifty-four seconds of fighting, Sullivan struck Broad foul, and the referee promptly disqualified him. It was a deliberate foul and hurt Broad, who fell to the floor in pain. The referee promptly sent Sullivan to his corner and announced Broad the winner. It was a popular ruling. Up to this time the fight was about even.

Lieutenant Governor—Frank Monzing of Milwaukee.

Secretary of State—Rochus Babinick of Milwaukee.

Attorney General—James Nelson of West Superior.

State Treasurer—Robert Phillips of Wausau.

Railroad Commissioner—William Ibs of Sheboygan.

Plover Company's Rag Mill Burns.

Steven's Point, Wis., July 5.—The rag mill of the Plover Paper Company burned yesterday morning. Spontaneous combustion in the rags was the cause of the fire. The loss is $75,000, covered by insurance written at Neenah. The mill will be rebuilt at once. There was no damage whatever to the main part of the mill.

Special Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Art League tomorrow, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mrs. A. E. Tanberg's, 206 South Main street.

"Orangeine" combines agencies delicately balanced, to secure "life giving" and freedom from pain.

Wheat Beginning To Ripen.

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—The climate and crop bulletin for the Illinois section of the United States weather bureau, including the week ending July 2, says: "Wheat harvest has advanced as rapidly as the weather would permit, but much of that in the southern part of the state which remains uncut is becoming too ripe, while that in the shock is badly damaged by rain. In the central district thrashing has begun. The prospects for a large yield of oats continue excellent. Harvesting has begun in the central and southern part of the state, and many fields are becoming very weedy. The hay crop has continued to improve under the influence of the heavy rains."

Cut Both Ways.

In an interval in the drilling one of the volunteers belonging to a crack regiment stepped out from the ranks to light a cigar from that of his officer. The latter took this evidence of the democratic spirit of freedom in good part, but said by way of a hint: "In the regular army you couldn't have done this to an officer, Brown." "Right you are," responded the private, "but in the regular army you could not be an officer."—Collier's Weekly.

MY BEAUTIFUL BABY BOY

Weak Women Made Happy by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Letters from Two Who Now Have Children.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It was my ardent desire to have a child. I had been married three years and was childless, so wrote to you to find out the reason. After following your kind advice and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I became the mother of a beautiful baby boy, the joy of our home. He is a fat, healthy baby, thanks to your medicine."—MRS. MINDA FINKLE, Roscoe, N. Y.

From Grateful Mrs. Lane

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wrote you a letter some time ago, stating my case to you.

"I had pains through my bowels, headache, and backache, felt tired and sleepy all the time, was troubled with the whites. I followed your advice, took your Vegetable Compound, and it did me lots of good. I now have a baby girl. I certainly believe I would have miscarried had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had a very easy time; was sick only a short time. I think your medicine is a godsend to women in the condition in which I was. I recommend it to all as the best medicine for women."—MRS. MARY LANE, Coyote, Tenn.

A Woman's Face

Tells its own story. A laugh is often a lie on a woman's lips. It belies the pain which is tearing at the nerves. But the eyes have no part in the laugh. Their purple rings speak of suffering. There are lines too about the mouth which only pain can give. Many women look forward to a week of such misery each month. Three months of each year are given up to suffering. It weakens them. It ages them. It robs them of social pleasures and family joys. Can there be any excuse for such women who fail to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription? It has cured thousands of such sufferers. Cured them perfectly and permanently. It cures ninety-eight out of every hundred who give it a fair and faithful trial. It's sure to help. It's almost sure to cure.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular monthly periods which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coaling Street, Uniontown, Pa. "Had indignation so bad that I could not eat anything hardly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."

SIXTY ARE HURLED TO DEATH

Car Filled with People Drops Into Chasm.

IS TACOMA'S WORST ACCIDENT

All the Passengers Were Excursionists Out for Pleasure—Horrible Scenes in the Gulch and at the Hospital—Frenzy of Relatives—Sad Day for Many.

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—Nearly 100 persons, passengers on a car bound for this city, were plunged down a gulch at Twenty-sixth and C streets. Those who were standing on the platform dropped off, only to be bruised and wounded by the heavy body of the coach, while others inside were killed and maimed, before they knew what had happened. The car jumped the track, and was smashed to kindling wood in the bottom of the chasm, over 100 feet below. The dead will number nearly three score, for there are many of the injured who will never recover and who are expected to die at any moment, and there are at least sixty passengers of the car now in the various hospitals and under the care of their own physicians.

List of Those Killed.
The dead are: Lois Drake, employee of telephone company, lives at South Tacoma; Annie Glass; Lettie Suter, South Tacoma; Dorley Dinger; Lois Dinger, Lakeview; Edward Bray; Carl Moser; Albert Moser; Richard Lee, South Tacoma; Mrs. Grossman, McNeil's island; G. Bertoli, Hillhurst; Otis Larson, Parkland; Ole Ranssen, Lake Park; James Benston, Hisshurst; Charles Davis; William Williams, South Tacoma; John Paulus, South Tacoma; William Nissen, Lake Park; Robert Steele, South Tacoma; Sledenberg, South Tacoma; Rev. Herbert Gregory, Lake Park; Griffith Vandershield, Reservation; A. L. Healy, Lake Park; G. McMullen, Tacoma; John J. Slaughter, Parkland; unknown man; W. H. Davis, Lakeview; Joseph McCann, Ballard; Roy Longerman, South Tacoma; Gordon Newton, South Tacoma; Richard Sanburn, South Tacoma; Willie Hardings, 102 Tacoma avenue; George Elliott, 1317 South I street; Mrs. K. J. Slaughter, Parkland; J. D. Calhoun, conductor, Tacoma; unidentified woman. Besides these there are about sixty-five injured.

All Pleasure Seekers.
It was one of the most appalling accidents that has ever occurred in this city and it came at a time when it was least expected. The train was filled with happy people, residents of the near-by towns—Edison, Lakeview, Parkland, Lake Park and other places—coming to Tacoma full of joy and patriotism to spend the Fourth of July. Their journey was nearly at an end when death came in a most frightful manner. Neither man, woman nor child was spared. Crushed, maimed and mangled, the unfortunates were dragged from beneath the wreck of the car and tender hands ministered to them until conveyances could be had to carry them to hospitals and to the homes of their friends. The dead were laid on the grass, but there were few in the crowds of spectators and rescuers who gathered at the scene at that time who knew who was dead and living. Such a spectacle of battered and mutilated humanity has scarcely ever been seen.

Spectacle of Carnage Witnessed.
It was a spectacle of carnage such as is scarcely ever observed in war, for car wheels and trucks and heavy timbers make more horrible wounds than bullet and shell. And the agonizing cries of the wounded and the dying as they lay on the sides of the gulch and on the bottom or were held down under heavy timbers that had once formed a part of the wrecked car could be heard for blocks away. There was help at hand a few moments after the accident occurred. Citizens, policemen, firemen, guardsmen, ex-volunteers and women and children aided.

When the dead had been sorted from the living and the last one had been rescued from the wreck, excited men and women and children besieged the morgues, searching for missing friends. Some were successful in their sad quest and others who were not successful turned away with evidence of joy upon their faces.

Woman and Boy Are Drowned.

Springfield, Ill., July 5.—At a reunion of the Thompson family at the Sangamon river, Mrs. George Thompson, aged 19 years, and her husband's 12-year-old nephew, Fred Thompson, were drowned and two others of the party narrowly escaped the same fate. Mrs. Thompson and two nephews, Fred and Frank, were boating on the river when their craft was capsized in a whirlpool. E. A. Thompson, father of the boys, went to the rescue and had Fred on his back when the two were caught in the eddies and the boy was drawn under the waters. The father swam ashore after a desperate struggle in the whirlpool. The other son was rescued by two fishermen who witnessed the accident and reached a pole to the boy.

ROBERTS' ARMY MOVING.

He Sends Word of Advances by Hunter and Butler.

London, July 5.—The following dispatch has been received at the war office from Lord Roberts at Pretoria: "Gen. Hunter's division has crossed the Vaal, and should be at Frankfort, where he will be joined by Col. Macdonald's brigade from Heilbron. Gen. Buller's leading brigade has left Standerton for Graylingstad. Both here and at Johannesburg, several families of the men who have been fighting against us are being fed. Some are in a state of destitution. At Heilbron, where the food supplies ran out, groceries, meat and other supplies of food are being distributed among the inhabitants under the supervision of the relief committee. Arrangements are being made for the distribution of oats for seed purposes to farmers actually in need of it and those who are unable to procure seed oats in any other manner."

The following dispatch was received at the war office from Lord Roberts: "Pretoria, July 3.—Gen. Hunter reached Frankfort July 1 without opposition, and Macdonald joined him there yesterday. He found two men of the Seaforths and eighteen of the Derby militia in the hospital. They had been well treated by the Boers. "Methuen reports from Paardekraal, on the Heilbron-Kroonstad road, that he has captured the commander of De Wet's scouts, two other prisoners and Andreis Wessels, the head of the Afrikaner Bond."

United States Monetary League.
Kansas City, July 5.—At the session of the United States Monetary league in the Auditorium, B. F. Heath of North Carolina read the first paper, in which imperialism and militarism were denounced as the evils of the times. The address closed by advocating the nomination of Bryan and Towne.

Gen. A. J. Warner of Ohio, in compliance with a request made by the league, discussed the currency bill passed by the last congress. Gen. Warner criticised the command made by the bill on the secretary of the treasury to maintain the parity of all forms of currency with gold. Charles A. Towne was introduced as the next vice-president, and spoke on "Some Republican Inconsistencies on the Money Question." The declaration of principles, as the monetary league calls its platform, which has been published, was unanimously adopted, and a collection was solicited from the audience to assist in defraying incidental expenses.

Ministerial Crisis in Sweden.

Stockholm, July 5.—King Oscar is said to have reprimanded M. de Lagerheim, minister of foreign affairs, and M. Boström, minister of state, for having criticised the speech the king made in England expressing his sympathy with the British in their struggle in the Transvaal. Having this difference between the sovereign and his advisers, a ministerial crisis is imminent. The senate of Finland has refused to indorse the czar's ukase, by which the Russian tongue has been declared the official language of Finland. Fourteen of the members of the senate have resigned office as a result of the decree.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1793—George Augustus Viscount Howe killed near Fort Mifflin, N. Y.; his skeleton was found there in 1890.
1801—David Glasgow Farragut, naval hero, born near Knoxville; died 1870. Farragut was the son of a Spaniard who had fought in the Revolution. He had attained the rank of captain in 1861, but when he went to Washington to offer his services for the Union the government had no ship to give him, and he spent his time in routine duties on the retiring board. When the expedition against New Orleans was fitted out, Farragut was placed in command of the naval armament and thus opened his career by one of the most brilliant victories of the war.
1802—Duc de Pasquier, distinguished at the courts of Napoleon and Louis Philippe, died at Paris; born 1757.
1804—Sir Austin Henry Layard, the explorer, died in London; born 1817.
1890—Bishop John P. Newman, noted Methodist divine and the friend of Grant, died at Saratoga; born 1826.

WHAT FARMERS HAVE GAINED.

The American farmer is prospering when well paid wage earners are carrying well filled dinner pails, as the following comparison of the farm values of principal crops shows:

Crop.	1895.	1899.
Corn	$44,095,394	$629,210,310
Wheat	237,028,928	310,505,259
Oats	103,656,068	198,197,875
Eye	11,065,926	12,244,118
Barley	20,312,413	25,593,254
Potatoes	78,941,901	89,323,832
Cotton	260,338,096	330,000,000
Hay	363,185,615	411,926,187
Tobacco	35,574,220	45,000,000
Flax	12,000,000	24,000,000
	$1,787,939,611	$2,900,986,725

Pleanty of work and good wages follow the opening of the mills, increasing the home market for farm produce so as to make these ten staple crops worth upwards of $323,000,000 more to the American farmer than under the democratic free trade administration, which shut our mills, killed our home industries, and gave our trade to foreigners.

Add to this increase of $323,000,000 the advance of $633,000,000 in the value of live stock within the last few years, and it will be seen that the farmers of the country have gained almost a round billion dollars through the better times under this republican administration, without estimating the increased values of their fruit, butter, cheese, eggs, vegetables and other small crops, to say nothing of the increased price paid for wool.

Racine Journal—Evidence accumulated that John M. Whitehead is drawing unto himself support from hitherto unsuspected quarters. The more the people of the state become acquainted with the sterling character of the man—of his strength of mind and honesty of purpose, the more they will take to him.

Mayor Richardson has put his foot on illegal street work, and says that if publicity doesn't stop it he'll try something else.

Mayor D. S. Rose's boom for temporary chairman was also of a temporary nature.

Even the Kansas City circus cannot equal the showing made by the famous Nonsuch Brothers yesterday.

Janesville kept all her promises, and none of the visitors were disappointed.

Illegal street work must stop. No half way policy will do.

SIX CORNERS.

Six Corners, July 5—Mrs. Dexter Gray returned from visiting her parents in Detroit Monday. Her sister, Miss Minnie Banks, accompanied her and will spend part of the summer in Wisconsin.

Miss Margaret Mullen of Fort Atkinson spent the week among friends here, returning to her home Sunday.

J. Oakley and family of Fulton spent Sunday at the home of his brother at this place.

The average price paid for May milk at our creamery was seventy-one cents per cwt., a gain of ten cents per cwt. over the price paid one year ago.

On Monday morning this vicinity received the heaviest rainfall since April 1, doing a vast amount of good to pastures and late crops.

Mr. Ray Bacon and bride of Janesville visited at George Bacon's last week. Mrs. O. White, who has been quite ill, is improving.

The Harmony and Johnstown ball teams played a game at John Monogue's Saturday in which our boys were successful. The score was too large to report.

Mrs. Frank Summerbell was the victim of a bad runaway on Tuesday. While driving alone near Mr. Bond's horse became unmanageable from lack of thill straps and Mrs. Summerbell was thrown out of her carriage, inflicting a severe scalp wound and otherwise badly bruising her. She was indeed fortunate to have, under the circumstances, escaped with her life.

TOP FELL IN ON THE WHIRL-A-GIG

An Accident That Came Very Near Being Serious—Several People Were Slightly Injured.

An accident that might have resulted much more seriously than it did, took place yesterday afternoon at the merry-go-round, located in the vacant lot just west of the Y. M. C. A. building.

About 2 o'clock some party or parties pulled up one of the stakes, to which the guy ropes holding up the canvas top or awning was fastened, letting the top over into the rapidly whirling machine, which at the time was crowded with people having a ride. Before the machine could be stopped several of the seats and horses were overturned and the occupants dragged along in the wreck.

Several people were more or less injured by being scraped along the ground but only one seriously, he being Adam Robinson of Milwaukee, a grandson of Adam Holt. He was considerably bruised and had a bad cut on the back of his head about four inches long. The young man bled badly for a short time until the wound was dressed. He was taken to the home of his grandparents who think nothing serious will result.

Authority of Massacre Report.

Shanghai, July 5.—Three Chinese servants of foreigners, it is rumored from a good source, have escaped from Pekin. They report that all the foreigners, 1,000 in number, including 400 soldiers, 100 members of the Chinese customs staff and a number of women and children, held out till their ammunition was exhausted in the British legation. The legation finally was burned and all the foreigners were killed. It is reported that Kwan-Hsu and the dowager empress have been poisoned.

Admiral Seymour Wounded.

The correspondent of the Express at Che-Foo, telegraphing Wednesday, says Admiral Seymour was wounded by Chinese sharpshooters while sitting in his house at Tien-Tsin. Official news received at Che-Foo shows that the Chinese have been guilty of horrible cruelty toward the wounded and captured, subjecting them to what is known as "ling che," or the slicing process. Under this hideous rite the bodies of the fallen have been mutilated. The Russians are retaliating by the wholesale shooting of natives. The situation, according to the Express correspondent, shows no signs of drifting into barbarism and savagery. Revolting stories are told of barbarities practiced upon Japanese and European prisoners captured on the way to Pekin, though it was not known before that Admiral Seymour lost any prisoners.

Army of 500,000 Necessary.

A dispatch to the Express from Shanghai says that according to the best military estimates 500,000 men will be necessary to subjugate northern China and even then it will take two or three years. The forces of the Chinese empire have gathered such motion that even Japan's full strength, launched now, will be unequal to the task of restoring order.

FOURTH WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Immense Crowds Thronged the Streets of Janesville and Celebrated.

TWO NOTABLE PARADES

Nonesuch Bros. Circus Unique With Original Designs and Comical Displays.

ACCIDENTS OF THE DAY FEW

With the popping and snapping of guns and crackers Fourth of July came to Janesville early yesterday morning and cheered by the roar of rockets and the flash of Roman candles, departed last night leaving a lot of satisfaction and small change in the town and a conviction among all citizens and visitors that it was the very best Fourth of July celebration ever held in Janesville.

Not satisfied with bringing such an unprecedented crowd the day also broke weather records by bringing the hottest nation's birthday in six years, and the hottest day so far this summer.

The celebration program was all that could be desired and was carried out without a hitch or flaw. The thing moved like clockwork from beginning to end and was a creditable showing in all respects to the gentlemen engaged in managing it. Country visitors were delighted beyond bounds and there will be no trouble to get them to come to the Bower City on a future like occasion.

The day was marked by few accidents and no fires which is considered remarkable. Not a prostration from the intense heat was reported. John M. Kemmett had his left eye injured by a fire cracker and besides a few burns on the small boy that comprised all the accidents aside from the stabbing affray. This is due largely to the watchful care of Chief Hogan and his able assistants.

The parade in the morning was good, but the Nonesuch Bros. circus in the afternoon took the cake. The young men who got up this comical display deserve the highest praise for originality and humor and it would have done credit to a city of the first class. It was no old shop-worn display, but one full of bright ideas and catchy designs. The patriotic exercises in Court House park attracted a large concourse of people who very much enjoyed the reading of the Declaration of Independence and the addresses.

The evening carnival was accompanied by a glow of red lights, torches and all the noises peculiar to the Fourth. Main and Milwaukee streets were crowded with the revelers, but there was little boisterousness and disorder.

It was a clean, patriotic and lively celebration, and will live long in the memory of the Bower City.

Among the features that attracted special attention and were loudly cheered all along the line were: Chas. Bostwick, representing Miss Nonesuch, daughter of the proprietor of the circus. Mr. Bostwick was ensconced in a basket phaeton, dressed in exaggerated fashion of a woman and beamed upon the laughing throngs while the perspiration poured down over his face from beneath the enormous hat he wore.

Joe Murray and Glen Burdick did themselves proud as bareback riders and their performance was as good as most professionals.

Bob Bostwick distinguished himself as a mermaid in a tub of water. His antics kept the crowd roaring. Wes. Allen designed and manipulated a unique noise maker called a callopie. It was a feature that made a decided impression.

Will Watt and Fred Sheldon had a Zulu specialty and if there ever was two wild cannibals they acted the part.

Gail Nicholson, John Sweeney and A. F. Spooner did a clown circus act on a big decorated wagon which deserved a prize.

Another pleasing feature of the afternoon parade was the Zulu chief by P. W. Goldin. The design was by Malichi and Eugene Fish and attracted universal attention.

W. J. Conroy's den of hyenas with four white horses attached, was also a feature of the parade. John Horn was the lion tamer, and Arnold Tift did the "lecturing." Mr. Conroy, with the assistance of the city firemen, made up his rig complete.

The Mexican costume worn by Colin C. MacLean in the Nonesuch Bros. circus parade yesterday was imported from old Mexico for the occasion. Mr. MacLean's brother Bob is located in Mexico and sent the costume. Cole made a first class Mexican. Even his Scotch friends had trouble recognizing him without his "kilts."

These were some of the features of the notable parade, but there were half a hundred others equally worthy of special notice and commendation. The people were unanimous in voting it a great success.

The vaudeville performances on the street platforms were good and drew great crowds. Great credit is due W. E. Evenson as chairman of the committee on decoration, and his assistants, for the work accomplished by them. Mr. Evenson gave his time freely towards making the celebration a success, and much effective work on the whole day's procedure was done by him. Such unselfish conduct, displayed by all those who had a hand in the management of affairs, is to be commended.

The Morning Parade.

The morning parade started promptly at 10 o'clock on Academy street, with Chief of Police Hogan and officer Brown some distance in advance to keep an open space for the procession through the immense crowds that lined the streets on the line of march. They were followed by the parade as follows:

Y. M. C. A. cornet band of 21 pieces. Exceedingly handsome pony team and cart, decorated in an exquisite manner with pink roses made of paper, driven by Master Carl, the property of August Lutz, the Monterey groceryman.

A. O. U. W. representing a blacksmith shop in full operation, decorated in colored bunting.

Janesville Typographical Union, representing a printing establishment, complete with press, type, cases, etc.

Those occupying the Typographical union's float in the morning parade were Albert Knuth, Ed Birmingham, O. C. Brandenburg, S. A. Cooper, Geo. F. Kueck, R. N. Brown, Frank Willey, E. H. Winney and Fred P. J.

Rentschler Bros. flower dealers, No. 1 hose wagon decorated with bunting.

Comic rig labeled cake walkers, five young men dressed in comic costume.

Marshals E. A. Hyde and Chauncey Millmore.

F. A. Taylor's steam automobile, made out of a Westinghouse traction engine, followed by a decorated threshing machine.

A comical outfit representing 4 combs with a bicycle of the vintage of 1875.

The Afternoon Parade

The afternoon parade was beyond the ordinary, and attracted great crowds. The order of march and the participants in Nonesuch Bros. circus was as follows:

Chief Marshal C. D. Child, G. A. R. Drum Corps, D. W. Watt and W. T. Dooley, Managers of Parade.

Charles Blay's Fire Police and Wagon, Proprietors, McKee & Roberts, Nonesuch Bros.

Y. M. C. A. band, Wm. A. Pinkerton, chief detective, Charles I. Sloan.

W. J. Conroy, hyenas, four horses, Sheldon's bell ringers, Watt and Sheldon, Philippines on wheels, W. J. Watt, F. S. Sheldon.

Imperial band wagon, Miss Nonesuch, Charles Bostwick, Mermaid wagon, Robert M. Bostwick, Buchholz elephant, Dexter's clown band (Souzas), Leopard cage.

Midway band, Roosting's dump cart, Zulu chief, Theodore Goldin, Alligator, McVicar Bros.

Sweeney, ring master, Gail Nicholson, bareback rider, Giraffe wagon, A. C. Jenkins, F. H. Koebelin, Pierson's menagerie, Kneff's clown band, Lewis's warrens, Rentschler's bouquet wagon, Brockhaus's dye wagon, Cowboys, Indians, Gately's ice wagons, Snake charmer, McNeil, Emmen's clown chariot, Stearn calliope, Wesley Allen, Cue Co. street band, Mortgage wagon, Smith.

The Patriotic Exercises.

Immediately after the morning parade the exercises of the day took place on the platform erected in the park. After a selection by the Imperial band Mayor Richardson, president of the day, delivered a short address on the Fourth and the many patriotic features connected with that day; he was followed by Rev. W. A. Goebel, pastor of St. Mary's church with a short prayer.

The Rev. R. C. Dennison delivered an address on the Fourth in a way that pleased the entire audience. Mrs. Janet B. Day read the Declaration of Independence in a manner that thrilled every heart and made the people wish that they might have heard it at the time it was issued and have taken part in upholding its principles. The Imperial band rendered another selection and the exercises were ended.

Vaudeville Performances.

Before and after the circus parade continuous vaudeville performances were given on the stages erected at different points on the streets. The work was of a high grade and much above the kind usually given by this class of artists.

Kid Able and Young Garfield gave some very clever boxing exhibitions showing they were both well versed in the manly art of self defense.

The Constantine Sisters as dancers and singers were a complete success and pleased a large audience with their sweet voices and nimble feet.

The Brazil Bros., comedy acrobats, gave a wonderful exhibition of acrobatic work and were well received by the crowds.

Geo. P. Demoneio, the contortionist, was a wonder, if he had any bones in his body they did not seem to make any difference.

The other artists gave very clever exhibitions and more than pleased the large crowds which congregated about the different stands.

The Evening Carnival.

The evening carnival was the crowning feature of the day's celebration. Early in the evening the crowds commenced to congregate on the line of march, filling the sidewalks and to the middle of the streets. It was a noisy crowd engaged in throwing confetti, paper, flour, oat meal, rice or anything that would make fun for the thrower and trouble for the hit.

No one escaped in the general fun. The parade formed on East Milwaukee street at 8:30 and marched west to Main street down Main past the park back on Main to East Side engine house, back to Milwaukee, up Milwaukee, up Milwaukee to Academy, back on Milwaukee to Main, where they disbanded.

The procession was led by King Rex followed by attendants and guard of honor, then followed maskers in all sorts and styles of costumes, armed with red, white, blue and green lights and roman candles.

On every corner lights blazed and roman candles flashed, making the night one of royal beauty, the streets from a distance looking like one moving mass of colored fire, with spouts of flame ever shooting skyward. The management of the carnival was somewhat disappointed in the turnout, as nearly half the people agreeing to take part in the fun did not mask, but for all that it was an unqualified success and worthy of the committee that had it in charge.

STABBING AFFRAY IS NEARLY FATAL

BLOODY RESULTS OF A SALOON ROW LAST EVENING.

Lewis Lundenwall Cuts Steve Bestab, a Fellow Laborer, in a Dreadful Manner—Bestab May Recover—The Man With the Knife Is Under Arrest

What looked at first sight to be a fatal stabbing affray took place last evening about 5:45 o'clock on Academy street near the side entrance to the saloon and hotel run by Fred Lutz. Lewis Lundenwall, a Swiss employed on the concrete work of the Janesville & South Eastern railroad, used a knife on Steve Bestab, a fellow laborer, in a way that caused Bestab to look as if he had been in a sausage machine.

Dr. J. M. Pember was called immediately after the cutting took place and found that Bestab had received a cut directly over the heart under the left arm about six inches long. The blade struck the ribs laying open the flesh to the bone, but not penetrating the lung. This was the most serious wound. He also received a flesh wound on the left hip about six inches long, but not very deep, causing the blood to flow in large quantities; and a cut on the left thigh and leg about a foot long. This last was more in the nature of a scratch. Bestab bled copiously and lost an immense amount of blood before his wounds could be dressed.

The Patrol Was Called. About 7:30 o'clock the injured man was conveyed to the Palmer Hospital. Dr. Pember visited Bestab this morning about 10:30 and found him resting easier and unless something unforeseen should arise he anticipated no serious results, his condition for a day or two might be in doubt but it is reasonably certain he will pull through.

The cause of the affray is somewhat clouded, but as near as can be found out both men had been drinking and Bestab who is a large man six feet tall weighing about 210 to 220 pounds started a fight with Lundenwall who is a much smaller man weighing about 165 pounds, in Lutz saloon and had him down on the floor and jumped on him. Lutz rushed up and parted the men and told them to get outside as he wanted no fighting in the place.

Bestab walked out the side door to Academy street and Lundenwall stayed inside. Bestab came back and wanted Lundenwall to come outside. Lundenwall said he was not looking for trouble and for Bestab to keep away from him or he would fix him. The men got into a wordy battle and finally went outside onto Academy street. Bystanders say Lundenwall had a knife in his hand when he came outside and told Bestab to look out for him, more words followed, names being called and finally Bestab struck Lundenwall knocking him down.

Bestab jumped onto him and commenced pounding and kicking him, when Lundenwall pulled his knife and struck three or four times.

Some men that appeared on the scene grabbed the knife, and separated the men. Bestab was carried into Lutz's saloon and a call was sent for the police.

Chief Hogan was soon there and arrested Lundenwall and took him to the city lock-up. Dr. Pember was called, and dressed Bestab's cuts and later he was taken to the hospital in the patrol wagon.

The knife with which the cutting was done was an ordinary black handled two-bladed, one blade about three inches long, and not particularly sharp, so that Lundenwall must have used considerable force to inflict the cuts that show on Bestab.

Both men boarded with Lutz, and are employed on concrete work on the new railroad, in the concrete gang under Foreman Jacob B. Nord. Bestab, the wounded man, is a Pole and is a powerful man. Lundenwall, who did the cutting, is a Swiss, about 35 or 40 years old. He is much smaller than Bestab and claims to have been a sailor. He is a pleasant looking fellow and one would not pick him out as a man with a vicious disposition. Both men were pretty drunk and Bestab especially so; he made such a fight that the police had to hold him while Dr. Pember dressed his cuts. That he is alive today is because the knife blade struck his ribs and stopped it penetrating his lungs.

"Eleanora" from "Pequeños Niños." The etymology of the word "pickaninny" is discussed by a writer in the current number of the American Anthropologist, who says that its possible derivation was pointed out by Sir Hans Sloane in 1707 in his "History of Jamaica." "Piganinnes," said Sir Hans, "is a corruption of pequeños niños, applied to the black or slave babies of Jamaica."

PAINFUL INJURY TO JOHN KEMMETT

Some Careless Person Threw a Cannon Cracker Which Struck Him on the Head.

John M. Kemmett met with a painful accident Tuesday night, while walking along the street. Some one celebrating the coming 4th of July threw a dynamite cracker, which exploded in Mr. Kemmett's face, badly cutting his left eyelid and his face below the eye. The eye was also badly injured.

Dr. Thorne expects to save the sight although when it was first examined it was thought the sight was gone. It was a narrow escape for Mr. Kemmett and it is a wonder he did not lose the sight of the eye. Dynamite crackers are dangerous things and their should be police regulation regarding their use.

After the Fourth.
Hurrah! hurrah, for the glorious Fifth,
And our boys who survived the fray;
Who wear the scars of the bloodless wars,
They fought and won in a day.

The shouting, screaming, howling mob
That rent the heavens with noise!
Are those sweet things tied in leading strings,
Those same distracting boys?

But yesterday they were soldier lads,
Marching to fife and drum;
While with frowning brow each told us how
He was going to make things hum.

"You bet we will." And you bet they did!
They're now the Invalid Corps,
With blackened stains, and powder grains,
But safe at home once more.

Then hurrah, hurrah, for the glorious Fifth!
Hurrah for our patriotic kids!
Who are laying low—for repairs, you know,
And doing as mother bids.

BUILDING THE PLATFORM.

Committee on Resolutions Completing Its Work.

16 TO 1 IS AT THE FRONT.

Division in the Committee on the Financial Plank—Final Contest on the Floor Seems Hardly Avoidable—All Night Session of Committee in the Heat.

Kansas City, July 5.—The convention resumed its work at 10 o'clock a. m., Chairman Thomas presiding. The enthusiasm is not waning, despite the intense heat.

Ten thousand men and almost half as many women crowded into the hot convention hall at 8 o'clock p. m., determined to wind up the "glorious Fourth" in a blaze of glory if that should prove at all possible. Almost every man in the hall had removed his coat and then white, blue, red and pink negligee shirts quite threw into the shade the light dresses and hats of the women. The appearance of the huge galleries was strangely different from that presented at most national conventions. They are almost one unbroken mass of light colors, and the effect of the whole was decidedly pleasing and summer-like. The great interior hollow of the convention hall, solidly walled with people, was well lighted by arc lights suspended from the ceiling. While the crowd was waiting for the delegates to file in and for the presiding officer to call the convention to order it was entertained with music by the several bands in the building and with songs by a glee club in one of the balconies.

Chairman Thomas rapped for order at twenty-five minutes to 9 o'clock. At that time the delegates' seats were not more than half filled, though the members of the convention were coming in rapidly.

Altgeld Makes a Speech. Chairman Thomas announced that while the convention waited for the reports of its committees it would listen to a speech by former Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois. Mr. Altgeld spoke slowly and with great emphasis, his voice apparently strained to the utmost.

As Mr. Altgeld finished and turned to drink a glass of water a thousand voices shouted the name of Hill. Mr. Hill did not speak and the convention proceeded by the reading of the report of the committee on rules and order of business. The report simply put into effect the rules of the last convention and specified the order of business, including the nomination of candidates for president and vice-president. The report was adopted without opposition.

Cheer Seating of Clark. Following came the report of the

I was subject to it for several years, had a doctor treat me for quite awhile, and as long as I took the medicine I was helped, but as soon as I quit the trouble returned. I took other remedies, but without being benefited. Finally learning about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured them at the People's Drug Co's. store and took them. They cured me. committee on credentials. When the chairman of the credential committee announced that it had been decided to seat the delegation headed by "Senator" W. A. Clark there was a shout of approval. So far as the contestants in the Indian Territory, Oklahoma and the District of Columbia are concerned, both contesting and regular delegations were seated, each member of the combined delegations being given half of a vote.

A minority report advocating the seating of the regular delegation from Oklahoma was also submitted. The national committee, after hearing all the testimony in the Oklahoma case, had voted to seat the regular delegates, and the two reports before the convention precipitated a lively fight on the floor. The regulars won.

The report of the committee on permanent organization naming Richardson of Tennessee as permanent chairman of the convention was greeted with applause, the Tennessee delegates climbing up into their seats and waving their hats on the ends of canes. The secretary and other temporary officers of the convention were named to succeed themselves in the permanent body. The report of the committee was adopted and Mr. Richardson was escorted to the platform amid great excitement and applause. He and Governor Thomas shook hands. Then the Tennessee congressman, looking tall and slender and gray behind his big glasses, started at once into his speech.

Richardson Makes a Speech.

As soon as Mr. Richardson had finished speaking a messenger brought word to the chairman that the committee on resolutions was in a hard tangle and could not prepare a report for presentation at that time. A knot of men gathered about the chairman's desk, all yelling at the top of their voices, and tried to secure his attention. He leaned far out over the stormy floor and said something which was heard by a few men in the front seats.

It was a motion for adjournment which he was putting to the house. Perhaps one-tenth of the delegates knew what the question was and voted upon it. Then he pounded the desk with his gavel, and the convention stood adjourned until 10 a. m.

Working on Platform.

The committee on resolutions was in session all night. It is uncertain as yet whether "16 to 1" will win out or a compromise plank be agreed upon.

Whatever they determine the fight will ultimately be fought out on the convention floor.

The committee on resolutions was in session almost constantly from 3 p. m., and yet neither side is confident of victory.

The chances favor the success of the "16 to 1" plank.

The latest poll from the committee at 2 a. m., indicated a vote of 24 for the compromise plank, 22 for the "16 to 1" declaration, and five members doubtful, holding the balance of power. Until the vote is actually taken the result will be in doubt.

The fight has been so long and so acrimonious that if the compromise plank is adopted it might, after all, interfere with the nomination of Bryan.

Stevenson's Name Mentioned.

The vice-presidential situation is largely the same as it has been. The suggestion of the name of former Vice-President Stevenson by the Illinois delegation has been received with some enthusiasm.

Adlai E. Stevenson is not only an avowed candidate for the vice-presidency, but stands an excellent chance of securing the nomination.

Shively Cannot Accept.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5.—Mr. Shively has made the following signed statement:

"I am profoundly sensible of the honor involved in the favorable mention of my name in connection with the nomination for the vice-presidency. But I have not been a candidate for the nomination, am not now, and could not accept the distinguished honor if offered. My reasons are of a purely business character, but nevertheless such as, with me, are legitimate."

FAVOR THE TRUSTS.

DEMOCRATS IN CONGRESS SHOW THEIR HANDS.

Prevent the Passage of the Joint
Resolution to Amend the Constitution—
Their Indignation Suddenly Cooled.

Democratic members of the house of representatives won a victory for the trusts by defeating the joint resolution to amend the constitution of the United States so as to clothe congress with power to dissolve corporations, associations and partnerships organized and conducted with a view to prevent free competition, control production and fix prices. The vote stood 154 to 131, giving a majority of 23. The affirmative vote was 36 short of the requisite two-thirds.

Despite the brave show of indignation and independence made by a number of Democrats in caucus only five of them mustered enough courage to go on record in favor of the resolution. And neither Sulzer, Ruppert, Salmon nor Lentz was among them. The five were Messrs. Campbell of Montana, Naphe and Thayer of Massachusetts, Scudder of New York and Sibley of Pennsylvania. Mr. Newlands, the Nevada silver member, voted with the Republicans. Two Republicans, Messrs. Lord and McCall, voted with the Democrats.

Mr. Richardson and his Popocratic followers demonstrated their partisan consistency in a marked degree. For two days they had been indulging in and enjoying one of their spasms of indignation and denunciation on account of "trusts and monopolies" and railing against the "octopus," and then they recorded their votes against a proposition to give congress power to deal with the same.

Mr. De Armond of Missouri closed the debate in opposition to the bill and Mr. Littlefield of Maine in favor of it. Both of them are members of the judiciary committee. The latter's speech was a valuable contribution to the discussion despite the fact that it was marked by allusions and references to the Democratic party which made it unsuitable for circulation as a Democratic campaign document.

Representative Richardson (Dem.) of Tennessee, following in the wake of the Democratic national chairman, has also tried to "do the right thing" by the sugar trust. He offered a joint resolution providing for the admission into the United States free of duty of all sugar and molasses imported from Cuba and Porto Rico. This would reduce the revenue of the national treasury by about $25,000,000 a year and make an annual gift of at least $15,000,000 of that sum to the sugar trust, which is the principal importer of sugar in the United States.

While Mr. Richardson does not go so far as his Democratic colleague and offer to refund to the sugar trust the back duties that they have already paid, still his proposition is a very generous one, and the motive that prompted it should be appreciated when the Democratic campaign collection box reaches the Wall street offices of the great sugar trust. The ways and means committee very properly and very promptly sat down upon this Democratic effort to enrich the sugar trust.

Mr. Hearst's Aspirations.

Young W. R. Hearst is developing his political aspirations in the Democratic party. It has long been his fond ambition that his late father's senatorial toga should fall upon his own shoulders. In New York he has many times been flattered with the prospect of a nomination for governor of that state, and it has even been hinted that he may be the vice presidential running mate of Mr. Bryan on the Democratic ticket.

Fonder This.

During 34 years of free trade the English savings banks increased their deposits by $350,000,000. During 23 years of protection in the United States (1890 to 1893) deposits in our savings banks increased by $1,635,573,403, and down to 1899 they had increased by $2,225,000,000, including the three Wilson bill free trade years, when money was withdrawn from the savings banks.

Traitors at Home.

Corporal L. J. Easley, writing from the Philippines to his mother in Ohio, says: "If some of those traitors in the United States had kept their mouths shut, we would have had them (the Filipinos) whipped long ago. Any one that upholds antipatriotism is no better than an insurrectionist." This confirms other similar reports of the Democratic support given to Aguinaldo.

ERA OF CLIFF DWELLERS.

Evidence Obtained That Puts It Back Hundreds of Years.

That the civilization of the cliff dwellers may be among the oldest in the world has been shown by the researches of a party of Denver scientists, headed by the Rev. Camden M. Cobern, who have just returned from a tour of five weeks among the ruins in New Mexico.

The party drove southwestward from Durango, Colo., through the mountainous desert district 220 miles to Gallup, N. M., and everywhere found traces of the mighty population that once inhabited the now desolate waste. Great wide roads were traced running over the hills as straight as modern engineers could survey them. Foundations of once vast buildings were found to contain immense blocks of stone as large as any cut in this age, says the New York World. Of the discoveries at one of the ancient ruins excavated, Dr. Cobern says:

"The work and design were just the same as in an old city of Palestine 1,400 years before Christ which I helped to dig up. Beneath this house, which was a large one of 425 rooms, we dug down 27 feet, and all the way were signs of human habitation. But Professor Cutler declared that all those layers, first of charcoal and then of gravel, had been laid in order by water, showing a period of occupancy far greater than that shown by the similar accumulations in Egypt, which are not nearly so thick.

"Oh, I am entirely converted from the theory I held that the cliff dwellers dated back only 500 years or so. The date may have been anything beyond 1,500 years back. I am prepared to recognize any revision of these statements back to 5,000 years before the Christian era."

A PHONOGRAPHIC HALL.

Scheme of Vienna Scientists to Store Up All Noise of Century.

An interesting project to establish a hall of phonographic archives is being promoted by the Vienna Academy of Sciences. It is proposed to obtain a phonographic record of life at the end of the nineteenth century for the benefit of posterity.

Specimens of European languages and the dialects and tongues spoken in other parts of the world will be recorded by phonograph, says the London correspondent of the New York World. Specimens, too, of contemporary music, dramas, sermons, lectures, political speeches, even of the conversation of the various classes of society, will be obtained.

Efforts have been made to secure personal statements from distinguished men on their specialty. For instance, it has been suggested that the German emperor be invited to make characteristic declaration on the divine right of kings, that Dreyfus give an account of his martyrdom and that Joseph Chamberlain have an opportunity of defending his policy in South Africa.

A committee of scientists has been elaborating the details of the scheme for some time past. No trouble will be spared to obtain a complete phonographic record of contemporary life.

WAS A TRIUMPH FOR D. B. HILL

Great Demonstration For the New Yorker At Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 5—David Bennett Hill came near being the Democratic national convention yesterday.

His name was cheered to the echo, the convention was forced to suspend proceedings for minutes at a time owing to the continual calls for the ex-governor of New York, who had been repudiated by his state delegation the night before.

And Mr. Hill had the proud satisfaction of hearing Judge Van Wyck's name greeted with hisses and cries of "Ice! Ice!"

The demonstration was all the more singular when the mention of William Jennings Bryan's name failed to arouse any enthusiasm and the display of his bust failed to call out the expected cheers.

It was David Bennett Hill's day of triumph.

The national democratic convention in its first session was a Fourth of July celebration without order or method and impossible of direction or control. The managers had prepared a number of dramatic situations which fell flat and the one dramatic incident of the whole session was not down upon the program. This was an ovation to David B. Hill, who yesterday became the martyr of Tammany's wrath with the pretense that he was unpopular with William J. Bryan.

Mr. Hill was the hero of the convention—delegates and spectators. For half an hour there was as wild a demonstration over the New Yorker as there was in the convention of 1896 over the speech of Mr. Bryan. It was an ominous incident to the democratic candidate, showing as it did that the great majority of the delegates were in sympathy with the man who represented everything in democracy which is antagonistic to Mr. Bryan, the accepted candidate of the party.

Mr. Hill, with becoming modesty, refused to take the platform in response to the generous demand made by the convention and the wild demonstration in the galleries. He remained in his seat while the whole convention stood and cheered him, and he had the satisfaction of hearing the names of Croker and Van Wyck mentioned without even a ripple of applause.
